

Valdemar Marcha reappointed as board member PCN

Prof. Dr. Ing. Valdemar Marcha will remain a board member of Pensioenfonds Caribisch Nederland (PCN Pension Fund) for four more years. Professor Marcha, who is a board member on behalf of the joint trade unions, recently reached the end of his first term as a board member of PCN. He has expressed his willingness to continue to be part of the board for the next four years.

PCN chairman Harald Linkels is very pleased with this decision. "PCN is a pension fund that is deeply rooted in the community of the Dutch Caribbean. Therefore, it is essential that our board members have much affinity with our participants in the government, education and health care sectors. Valdemar is a man who enjoys great respect and confidence on the islands because of his prominent role in trade and industry, science and society as a whole. He builds bridges with his impressive knowledge and experience. It is wonderful that he is prepared to make this knowledge and experience available to PCN for four more years. That is good news for the pension fund as well as for the participants that he represents."

Valdemar Marcha was president director of ALM Antillean Airlines at the end of the 1990s. In the course of years he has advised the government in several fields and he is well-respected in the academic world. He is Rector Magnificus of the Intercontinental Caribbean University and was a guest lecturer at universities in the United States, the Netherlands, Israel and Cuba. Professor Marcha, who is deputy chairman of the board of PCN, is an expert in the field of social-cultural processes in the Dutch Caribbean and author of a large number of books.
